PROFESSIONAL SUMMARY

Front-End Web Developer with a technical foundation in HTML5, CSS3, and JavaScript, built through the Web Development Challenger Track (ITIDA & Udacity) and UI/UX & Front-End Development training (ITI), and applied through hands-on front-end projects. Brings over eight years of professional experience across administrative operations, document control, inventory and factory coordination, and IT support — with a consistent track record of managing structured data, systems, and processes. First introduced to design and development through self-directed study, now formalized through structured training and practical project work. Adaptable, reliable under pressure, and focused on building a long-term career as a Front-End Developer.
